

I just wanted to write a quick post.Â I am sitting in an Internet cafe and nothing is where it should be on this keyboard.
I walked a long way today, north across the river and up the embankment and west to Prague Castle.Â Geat views!Â I will post more photos when I get back to London, but for now here are a few.

That last shot shows over a thousand years of various buildings.
I have a 6th row seat for Lantern Magika this evening, Argonauti (Jason and the Argonauts), the shows I wanted to see are not on this week.Â I am sure I will enjoy it just fine.
Ciao ciao!
